Summary of reasons for decision:

The video file is a surreptitious recording of two young girls who are partially nude and filmed in a situation where it would be reasonable to expect privacy. This has the effect of sexualising their bodies in an exploitative manner. The video promotes and supports the exploitation of children for sexual purposes and is therefore deemed to be objectionable under s 3(2)(a) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993. This classification interferes with the right to freedom of expression as affirmed by the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention that publications which fall under s 3(2)(a) be deemed to be objectionable and reflects the concern of New Zealand society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
